JURY'S VAIN WRESTLE.

HOPELESS DISAGREEMENT ASTO GUILTY ILL WITH SUSPENSE.

In the Early Morning Hours
Nan Patterson Appears Pale and Haggard in the Court Room, and Soon Afterwards the Jury Is Discharged.

New York, May 4.—Having failed to reach a verdict and declaring that they were hopelessly disagreed, the jury in the Nan Patterson case was formally discharged at 2.20 o'clock this morning.

It is understood that the majority of the jury was for acquittal, but in what proportion they stood cannot be ascertained. Miss Patterson collapsed on the jury's announcement and faintly dead away. She was assisted from the court by one of her counsel and several court attendants and revived in an ante room.

At 1:30 o'clock the jury in the case of Nan Patterson tried for the third time on the charge of murdering "Caesar" Young, was called into the court room by Recorder Goff. When the twelve men were in their places and the court official had all arrived the Recorder asked why the defendant had not been brought into court.

A deputy sheriff replied that she had been feeling ill and had retired, but was then being dressed. After a wait of twelve minutes Miss Patterson appeared looking pale and in a highly nervous state.

"Gentlemen, have you been able to reach an agreement?" asked the recorder of the jury.

"No sir," replied the foreman.

"Is there any question of law or of evidence in which I can instruct you? Is there any way in which the court can help you?"

The foreman looked for an instant at his fellow members of the jury, then turned to the Recorder and said:

"No sir, I don't believe you can help us."

"Then you will retire to reconsider the matter?"

The jury filed out and the court room was cleared. Recorder Goff remained in his chamber to receive a verdict if rendered or to further instruct the jury.

General Lee's Sons.

Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, who passed away in Washington last Friday and whose funeral took place in Richmond to day, left two sons and both of them are officers in the regular army," remarked a personal friend of the dead general. The elder of General Lee's sons is Fitzhugh and the younger is George Mason Lee.

"During the Spanish war Gen Lee called at the White House to pay his respects to President McKinley. As he was about to take his leave the President said, "General you have a son named Fitzhugh, I believe. How would you like it if I were to appoint him a lieutenant in the army?"

"General Lee told the President that he would be very glad to have his son in the army. 'Well then,' said the President, 'I will appoint him.'"

"General Lee told me that he appreciated the compliment very highly, especially in view of the fact that young Fitzhugh had had no military training. Later on George Lee was appointed a lieutenant. He had been a cadet at West Point for a year. He resembles his father and is a dashing horseman.

"General Lee" was noted for his horsemanship. As a cat he made a great reputation in the cavalry school and no one loved a fiery steed more than he."

OUR CITY FATHERS.

The Newly Elected Board of Aldermen Held Their First Business Meeting in the City Hall Last Night and Elected Officers for the Ensuing Two Years.

The newly-elected Board of Aldermen, of the City of Goldsboro, held their first business meeting in the City Hall last night, it being the regular monthly meeting of the Board.

Mayor Hood presided, and City Clerk Broadhurst was at his post. The following members were present—constituting the entire Board—Aldermen Higgins, Jones, Suggs, Allen, Borden, Lamb, Kornegay, Weil and Holmes.

At the appointed hour the members of the Board filed in and took their seats at the accustomed meeting place in "Tribulation Hall," where practice is meted out to evil doers.

A large crowd was present, including several members of the retiring Board, all anxiously waiting, with breathless suspense, to hear the final result of Wednesday night's caucus.

On the outside, and peeping in at the doors, stood several—maybe all—of the police officers, listening to hear the news which would mean to them two more years' work (?) or put them on the retired list; but they were not long in suspense, as will be seen below.

Mayor Hood, with a rap of the gavel, called the meeting to order, and administered the oath of office to the members of the new Board.

In doing so, he took occasion to say, in his usual pleasant and happy style, among other things:—

"GENTLEMEN—I am glad, indeed, to have the pleasure and honor of being associated with you, as Aldermen, for the ensuing two years, and I invoke your sympathy and harmony and ask for your hearty co-operation and help in all matters pertaining to the best interest and welfare of the city, and in that way we will have a successful administration."

Aldermen Borden then arose and stated that the first business to be transacted by the new Board was the election of city officers for the ensuing two years.

Alderman Kornegay was requested to read out the officers, as selected at the caucus Wednesday night. When he arose a death-like silence pervaded the entire surroundings and we could hear our watch tick in our vest pocket.

He read as follows:
City Clerk—D. J. Broadhurst; salary $82.50 per month.
City Tax Collector—W. H. Collins.
Treasurer—J. R. Crawford; salary $300 a year.

Chief of Police—A. B. Freeman; salary $60.00 per month.
Police No. 1—B. M. Denmark.
Police No. 2—R. E. Smith.
Police No. 3—A. J. Fulghum.
Police No. 4—J. M. Swearingen.
Police No. 5—E. J. Tew.

Cart Drivers—S. E. Thornton, Jasper Warrick, Julius Wilson, Paschal Warrick; salary $25 per month.
Keeper of Park—E. C. Kleinert; salary $25 per month.
Chief of Fire Department—T. H. Bain.

Assistant Chief—E. A. Creech.
Engineer—B. L. Thompson.
City Attorney—J. L. Barham; salary $100 a year.
City Physician—Dr. Jno. Spicer; salary $300 a year.

Vauey in Cemetery Trustees—W. T. Yelverton, to succeed himself.
On motion of Aldermen Kornegay Mr. F. K. Borden was elected Mayor pro tem.

After the officers were voted for in order—one by one—the Board proceeded to business.

Capt. S. Cohen appeared before the Board and asked that the Jones-Adams Carnival Co., which are scheduled to exhibit in this city the 13th of May, under the auspices of the military, be exempt from city taxes. Mayor Hood asked to be put on record as opposed to the measure.

Aldermen Borden and Allen also spoke in opposition, on the ground that Carnivals were generally immoral and damaging to the business interests of the city. The request was refused.

Mr. Wm. Blanchard, a one-legged man, appeared before the Board and asked to be released from taxes for running a fresh meat market in the Northern part of the city. The Board refused to grant the request. They held that it was discriminating and unjust to the other dealers in fresh meat who pay a license year in and year out, while those small stands only sell a few months in the year.

The following standing committees were appointed by the Mayor and ordered read out by the City Clerk:
Street Committee—F. K. Borden, chairman; J. W. Lamb, G. C. Kornegay, D. L. Jones, J. B. Higgins.
Fire and Water Committee—Lionel Weil, chairman; J. W. Lamb, W. H. Suggs, J. M. Allen, J. R. Higgins.

Sanitary Committee—J. W. Lamb, chairman; G. C. Kornegay, D. L. Jones, T. H. Holmes, W. H. Suggs.

LICENSE NOT NEEDED.

THE DRAKE INSURANCE SOCIETY CONTROVERSY SETTLED. NOT UNDER DISTRICT CODE.

Corporation Counsel's Opinion Promptly Accepted by Superintendent and Approved by the Commissioners: Royal Benefit Company's Case Unique: Decision Not Regarded as Precedent.

The fact that Prof. Geo. W. Reid, of the Colored Graded School faculty of this city, represents the Royal Benefit Society should of itself be a sufficient guarantee of its integrity among our colored people, for Prof. Reid has grown up among us and is respected by all who know him, both white and black; but as a further evidence of the wide-spread territory and universal popularity of the Royal Benefit Company, we copy the following article from a recent issue of the Washington Post in regard to some litigation, as to license, this Company had in the District of Columbia:

"Superintendent Drake, of the department of insurance, upon the advice of Mr. Duvall, corporation counsel, and with the approval in favor of the retention of the Royal Benefit Society, holding that it does not require a license from the insurance department, but is entitled to do business as a fraternal insurance society because it was incorporated under an act of Congress enacted prior to the District code, and was first granted a license by the assessor of the District to carry on its business indefinitely.

"The first application of the Society was for a license, and Supt. Drake declined to grant it a license on an opinion of the corporation counsel approved by the Commissioners. Counsel for the Society, Henry E. Davis, appealed for a reconsideration of the case. Pending that, officers of the Society filed charges against Superintendent Drake, which they afterward withdrew.

"Mr. Davis then submitted to the commissioners a long brief containing a number of questions of law and making the case turn upon the claim that the society did not need a license from the insurance department, but was entitled to do business under the old license of the assessor. This was referred to the corporation counsel by the commissioners, and he has decided that the superintendent of insurance may properly take the view taken by counsel for the Society, which Supt. Drake, with the approval of the commissioners, has done.

"The corporation counsel says: 'I have reached the conclusion that there is a grave question of doubt as to whether this society, which was incorporated under an act of Congress, enacted prior to the code of law for the District of Columbia and granted a license by the assessor of the District to carry on its business indefinitely, is required to have a license from the superintendent of insurance. The question involves a matter of statutory construction, and I am of the opinion that the law in the premises could be resolved by the superintendent in favor of the Society, and that he could treat the Society as being authorized to transact the business of fraternal insurance in the District of Columbia.'"

"Supt. Drake yesterday addressed a letter to the commissioners, in which he said: 'Having been advised by the corporation counsel that there is at least grave doubt as to whether the Royal Benefit Society, having been incorporated under a law of Congress enacted prior to the code and having been granted a license by the assessor of the District to carry on its business indefinitely, is required to have a license from the superintendent of insurance, I have concluded to resolve the doubt in the Society's favor, and will treat it as being authorized to transact the business of fraternal insurance in the District.'"

When Supt. Drake presented the papers late yesterday afternoon, the commissioners promptly approved them. The case of the Royal Benefit Society is unique, and the decision, it is said, does not make a precedent that will affect insurance companies of a different class."

Dr. Osler promulgated a sane dictum when he said that we ought to allow our college professors time to think. Of course there are a few college professors, notably in Chicago, who think too much, but a trifle more leisure would not hurt the class as a whole. That is what Dr. Osler thinks about the matter, and after he has reminded us, we can see very clearly where he is right. There is conservative thinking which begets wisdom.

Dear Sirs—You know all about shoes. How many customers have you who know anything about em? You have bought and sold shoes for years, and have learned what you know by your customers, liking one sort, and not liking another. They find out by wearing em. So with paint we go deeper. We are 150 years old in the business; and we make, not buy—we make a good deal of paint.

We paint a good share of the railroad and steamer property in the United States, and may as well paint the private property, Yours as well as anybody else's.

Devco lead-and-zinc is your paint. Costs half as much as mixed paint or lead-and-oil because it takes fewer gallons and wears twice as long.

Mr. Ezra Rathmell, William-sport Pa., used 11 gallons of a well-known mixed paint for his house; he repainted it with Devco: bought 11 gallons and had 5 left.

$3,000,000 LOSS.

TRAIN LOADS OF BERRIES REACH NEW YORK ROTTEN.

The Armour's Blamed. Their Cars Not Furnished According to Contract. Tosses In the Belt Show That They Have Been Enormous.

New York, May 8.—The local strawberry market is completely demoralized through the failure of the refrigerator car trust, which is controlled by the Armour's and has the perishable fruit trade completely at its mercy, to furnish a sufficient number of cars to transport the crop from the South. A conservative estimate places the loss already in ruined fruit at $3,000,000. The great bulk of this falls upon the growers.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which brings fruit from the South in conjunction with the Atlantic Coast Line, condemned eleven carloads of strawberries to lay. The berries reached Jersey City in such condition that they were taken to Jersey meadows and dumped. Hundreds of carloads have been treated in the same way during the past week. The loads came in open cars owing to the scarcity of refrigerator cars.

Commission men are unanimous in blaming the Armour trust for this condition of things. It takes from three to six days to bring the berries from the fruit belt, instead of the usual forty-eight hours. The growers are threatening suits for damages against the transportation lines. The latter claim that they are not to blame as the Armour Company has defaulted in its contract to furnish a certain number of cars.

LOCAL TAXATION FOR SCHOOLS.

EBENEZER DISTRICT WILL VOTE ON THIS IMPORTANT QUESTION. May 30th.

"At the same time came the disciples unto Jesus saying, Who is the greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven? And Jesus called a little child unto him and set him in the midst of them."—Matthew xviii, 1-2.

"It is not the will of your Father which is in Heaven that one of these little ones should perish. I came that ye might have life and have it more abundantly."—Jesus.

Ignorance is either a good thing for a community or it is a bad thing. The means with which to banish ignorance can be voted into a community or they can be voted out. A good school house, a good teacher, and a good library are the deadliest foes ignorance has; they can be voted into any community.

If ignorance is not a curse, a sin, a reproach to any people, then it must be that people's blessing, goodness, pride. North Carolina has 43 counties in which there are more than 20 white voters out of every 100 who are illiterate, that is who cannot read and write. There are 217 counties in the United States in which there are more than 20 white illiterate voters out of every 100. As has been said above, North Carolina has 43 of these counties. More than 28 people out of every 100 in North Carolina over ten years old cannot read and write. The census of 1900 prints this fact about North Carolina, it cannot be concealed, it is a part of the common knowledge of mankind.

More than 19 out of every 100 white people in North Carolina over ten years old cannot read and write. There is only one other state that has so many illiterate white people as North Carolina.

As we see it, the only way to change the above figures is to supplement the regular school fund by voting a local tax in every community that has not already established good schools.

Present educational conditions in North Carolina are not wholly dark; they grow brighter as the days go by. Scarcely a week passes that we do not hear of some community voting a local tax for schools. These are signs of hope. Perhaps the most hopeful sign of the constantly upward tendency of educational affairs has been the ever increasing number of towns and rural districts which have applied each two years to the legislature for the privilege of improving their public schools by local taxation. This movement was begun in 1875 at Greensboro. Soon afterwards Raleigh, Goldsboro, Charlotte and other larger towns voted a local tax and established graded schools. Since 1900 the number has increased to 250 districts, 200 being in the country and small towns. About 20 districts carried for local tax during the months of April and May of this year, some not having a single vote against the special tax.

The following facts and figures show what local taxation has done for Fentress township, Guilford county. What is true of Guilford is substantially true of two-thirds of the counties of the state. Fentress voted local tax in 1904; this is the exhibit:
